

MARINE CORPS INSTALLATIONS NATIONAL CAPITAL REGION
MARINE CORPS BASE QUANTICO

Environmental Policy Statement

Our environment is a resource we share with local communities and hold in trust for future Marines. These resources are necessary to successfully execute our mission to promote and sustain training and readiness. They are also essential to continue and expand our long tradition of excellence in providing world-class installation support and quality of life services.

Marine Corps Installations National Capital Region-Marine Corps Base Quantico is committed to environmental conservation. Our conservation actions will be planned and implemented in continued partnership with our tenants, local communities, Native American tribes, State and Federal agencies, and other valued stakeholders. This policy provides a foundation for establishing goals, objectives, and performance targets throughout the installation. Commitment to this environmental policy is demonstrated by:

- Complying with environmental laws, regulations, and policies;
- Communicating and coordinating environmental commitments and responsibilities with internal and external stakeholders;
- Incorporating an understanding of environmental and mission risk into decision-making;
- Conserving our cultural and natural resources;
- Promoting sustainability through recycling, water conservation, reduced energy consumption, and pollution prevention;
- Cleaning up contaminated sites through the installation restoration program;
- Fostering an effective, efficient, and continually improving environmental program; and
- Sustaining and extending our partnership with stakeholders, including local communities.

I expect every person that lives aboard, works on, or visits this installation to adhere to and promote the spirit of this policy.

Semper Fidelis,

MICHAEL L. BROOKS
Commander, U.S. Marine Corps
